elegant residence in the village of Woodstock, known as the "Tanners Brook House," which has already become a favorite resort for the city visitors during the vacation season. It will accommodate sixty guests, and is fitted with every modern improvement. The Doctor is a member of Lodge No. 123, F. & A. M., of Dundee, Yates Co., N. Y., and also of Lodge No. 533, I. O. O. F., Bearsville. He was one of the founders of the New Lutheran Church at Woodstock, in which he is now a trustee.

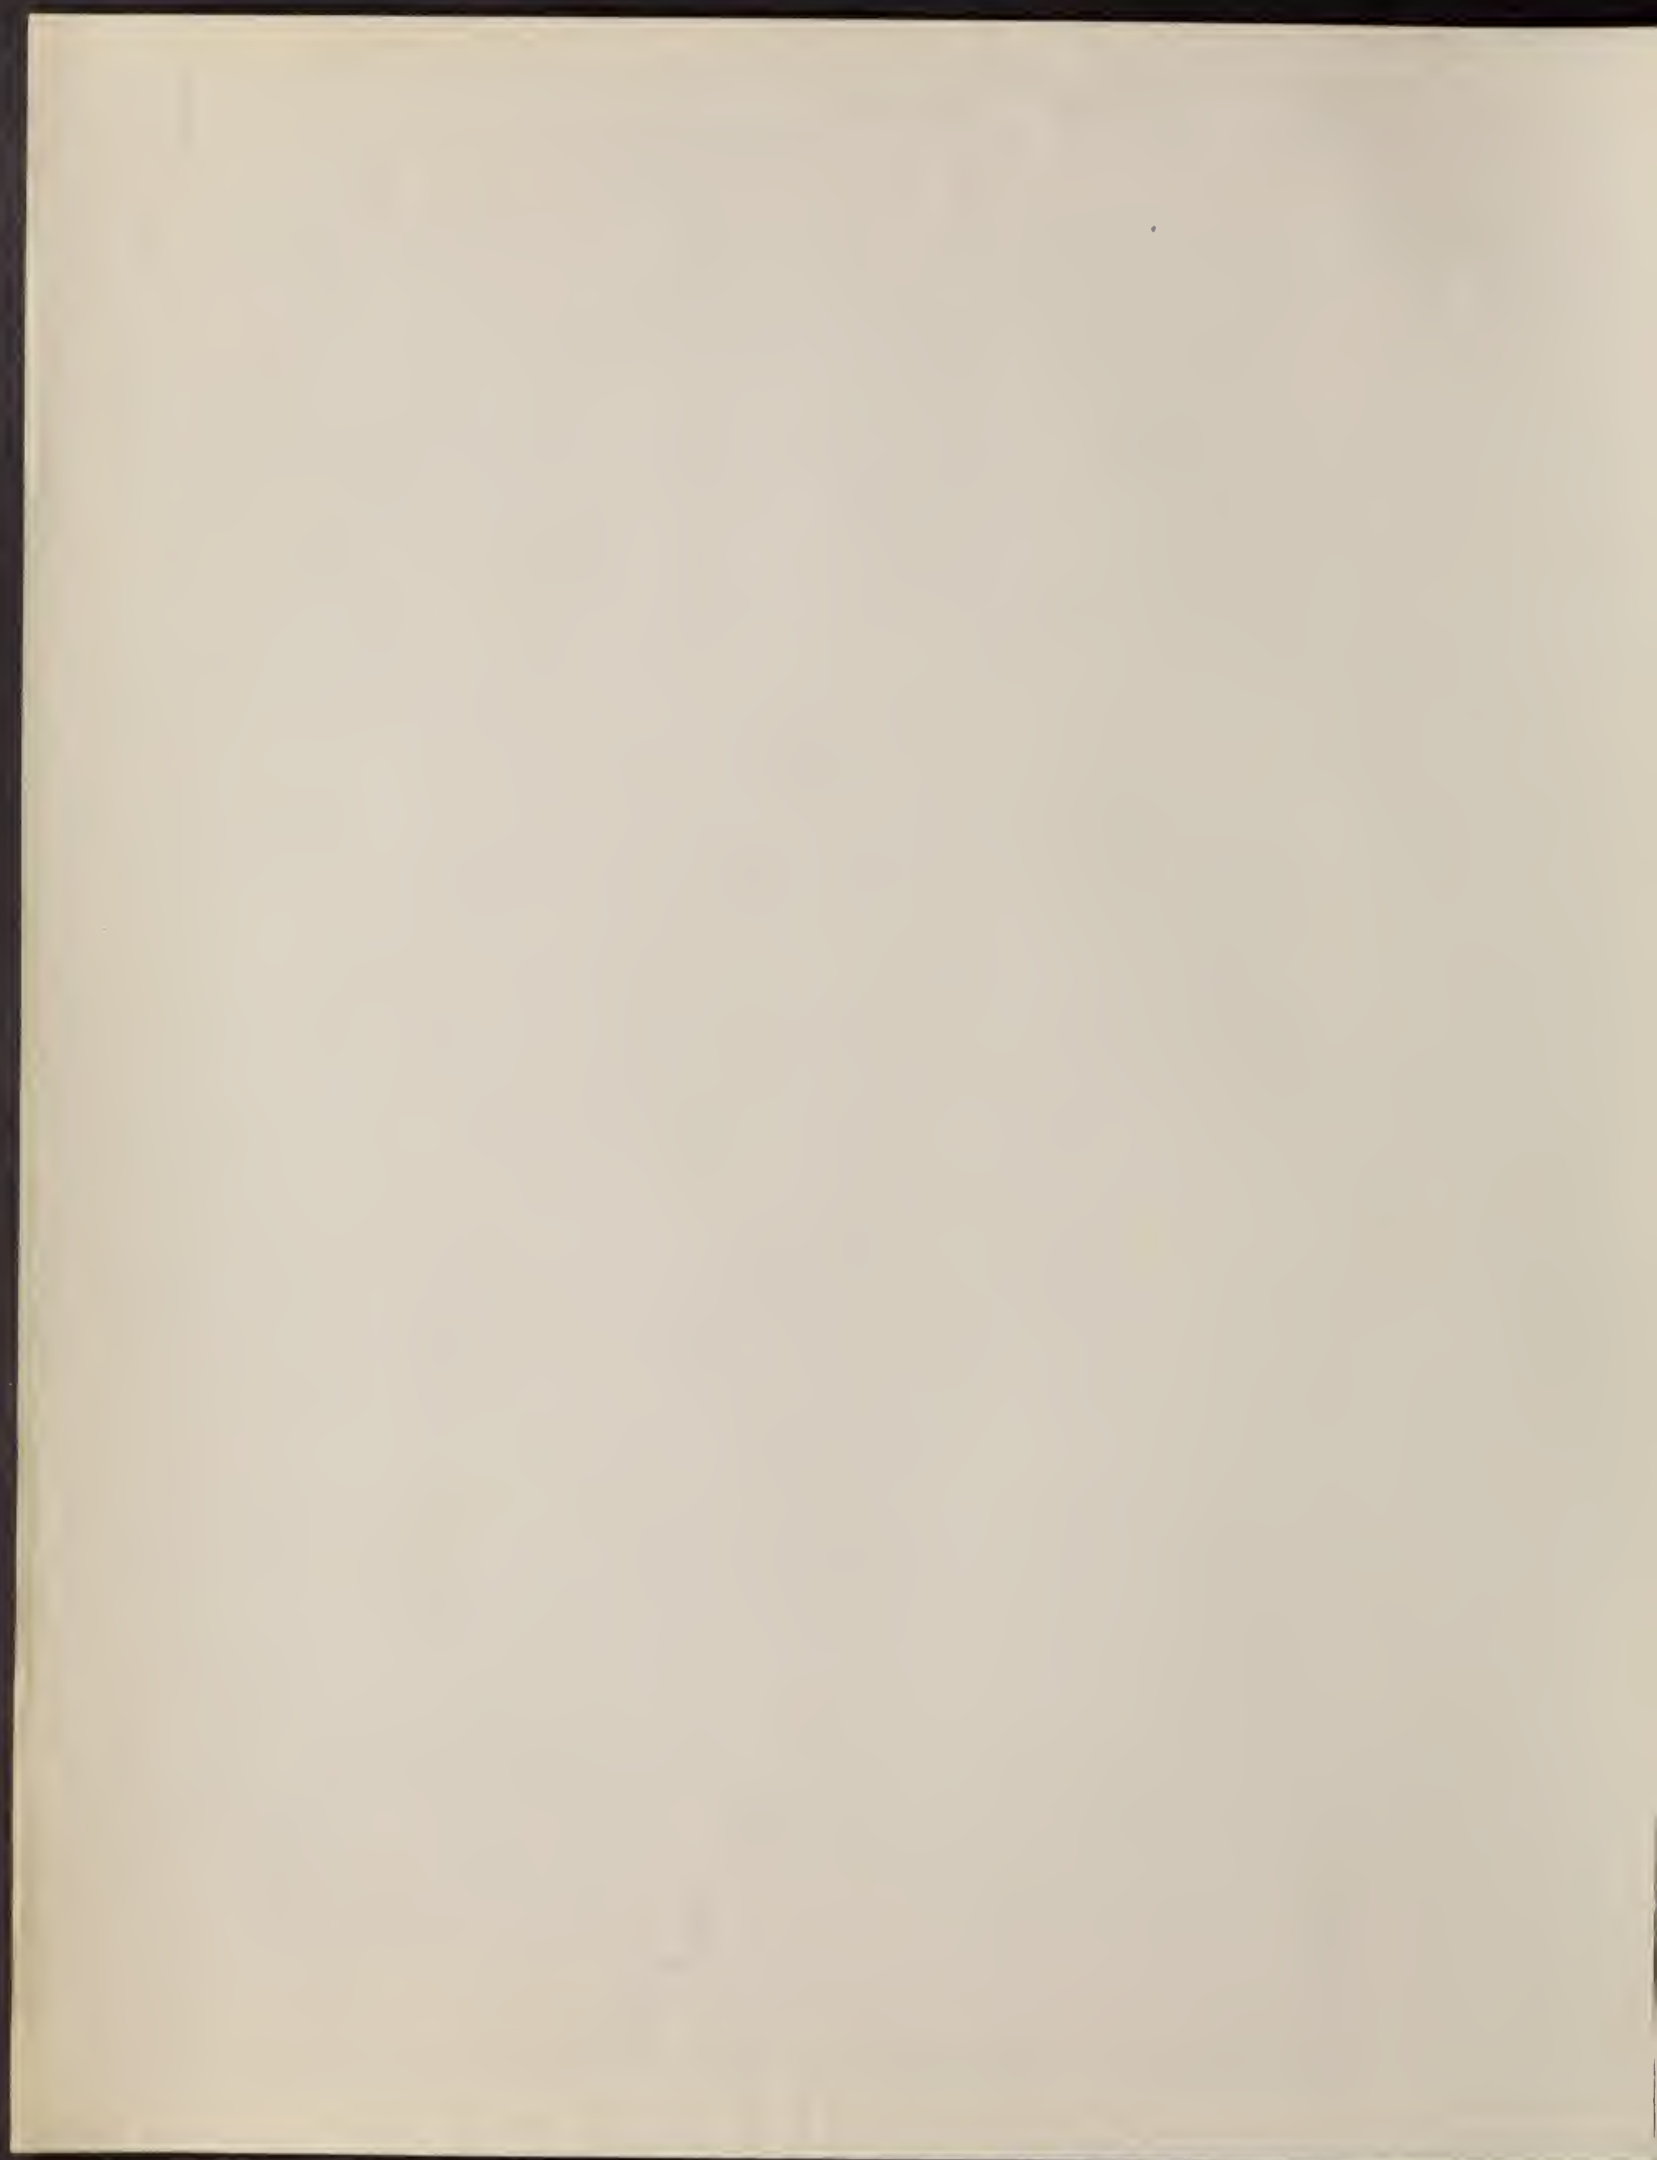

SOLOMON VAN ORDEN (deceased) in his lifetime was a valued citizen of Ulster county, and when he passed away one more name was added to the roll of Ulster county's honored dead, whose records were closed with the words "well done." He was born in Plattekill township, September 30, 1825, and was a son of Abraham Van Orden, whose birth occurred in this county, July 7, 1792. His grandfather, Peter Van Orden, was a native of the Empire State, and a son of Adam Van Orden, the first of the family to locate in New York. They are descended from Holland ancestry, and the family was well represented among the heroes of the Revolution.

Peter Van Orden wedded Mary Warner, a native of New York, and located on a farm in Plattekill township, Ulster county, where they spent their remaining days. Their children were: Abraham, Maria, Margaret and Catherine. The first named was reared on the old family homestead, and as a companion and helpmeet on life's journey chose Maria Le Fevre, who was born in Gardiner township, January 18, 1796. Her father, Philip Le Fevre, was born in Kettleboro, Ulster county, and was a son of Abraham Le Fevre, a native of this county, who lived in the old house which was long occupied by our subject. The next in the line of direct descent was Jan Le Fevre, a son of Simon Le Fevre, who sailed from France, and took up his residence in Ulster county. Mr. and Mrs. Van Orden located on a farm in this county at the time of their marriage, and their last days were spent in Plattekill township. They had a family of eight children: Philip, born December 3, 1816, resides at Pine Bush, N. Y.; Peter, born December 6, 1818, is now deceased; John, born February 26, 1821, and is also deceased; Ann M., born March 29, 1823; Sarah, born December 24, 1828, now deceased; Elsie, born August 12, 1833, is the widow of Daniel Hasbrouck, and is residing at New Paltz; Margaret, born March 1, 1836, is the wife of Charles Gildersleeve; and Solomon, our subject.

Solomon Van Orden in his youth attended the district school of Jenkinstown and of Kettleboro, and while at Kettleboro he lived with his grandfather, Philip Le Fevre. He completed his education in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and then engaged in teaching school in Jenkinstown, after which he operated his Uncle Solomon Le Fevre's farm until his marriage, later purchasing same. On November 14, 1854, he married Sarah Le Fevre, who was born in Lloyd township, Ulster county, November 4, 1832, a daughter of Cornelius D. Le Fevre, who was born at Kettleboro, September 25, 1808, and died February 4, 1891. He was reared in Gardiner township, and married Gitty Elting, who was born in New Paltz township, October 12, 1805, and died December 15, 1890. Mr. and Mrs. Le Fevre located on a farm in Gardiner township, and four children were born to them, one of whom died in infancy, the others are: Mrs. Van Orden. Hannah Maria, born March 15, 1840, who was the wife of Louis Woolsey, a fruit farmer of Ulster county; she died June 5, 1884. J. Elting, born April 7, 1843, is a merchant of Highland. The father was a successful farmer. The maternal grandparents of Mrs. Van Orden were Josiah R. and Sarah (Le Fevre) Elting. Their family numbered eight children: Andries, Maria, Rachel, Cornelia, Magdalene, Gitty, Roelif and Abram D. B. Mr. Elting was born in 1762, and died June 20, 1834, while his wife passed away June 8, 1823.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Orden, at the time of their marriage, located on a farm in Kettleboro, where to them were born six children, of whom three died in childhood; the others are: Cornelius Le Fevre, a farmer of Gardiner township; Mary, wife of Charles Minard, a farmer of New Paltz township; and Gertrude E., wife of Herman Du Bois, living on the Van Orden farm.

Mr. Van Orden was a self-made man, who by hard work, good management, indefatigable enterprise and honorable dealing accumulated a fine property. At the time of his death he owned four farms in the southern part of the county, besides town property in Kingston, N. Y. In politics he took an active interest, and was a staunch Republican. He aided in all matters calculated to improve and upbuild the community, and was a public-spirited and highly-respected citizen. He and his wife were long faithful members of the Dutch Reformed Church, in which he served as elder and deacon. On November 29, 1893, he passed away at the age of sixty-nine years, and his death was deeply mourned by many friends. Mrs. Van Orden, a most estimable lady, still resides on the old home farm, and her friends throughout the community are many.

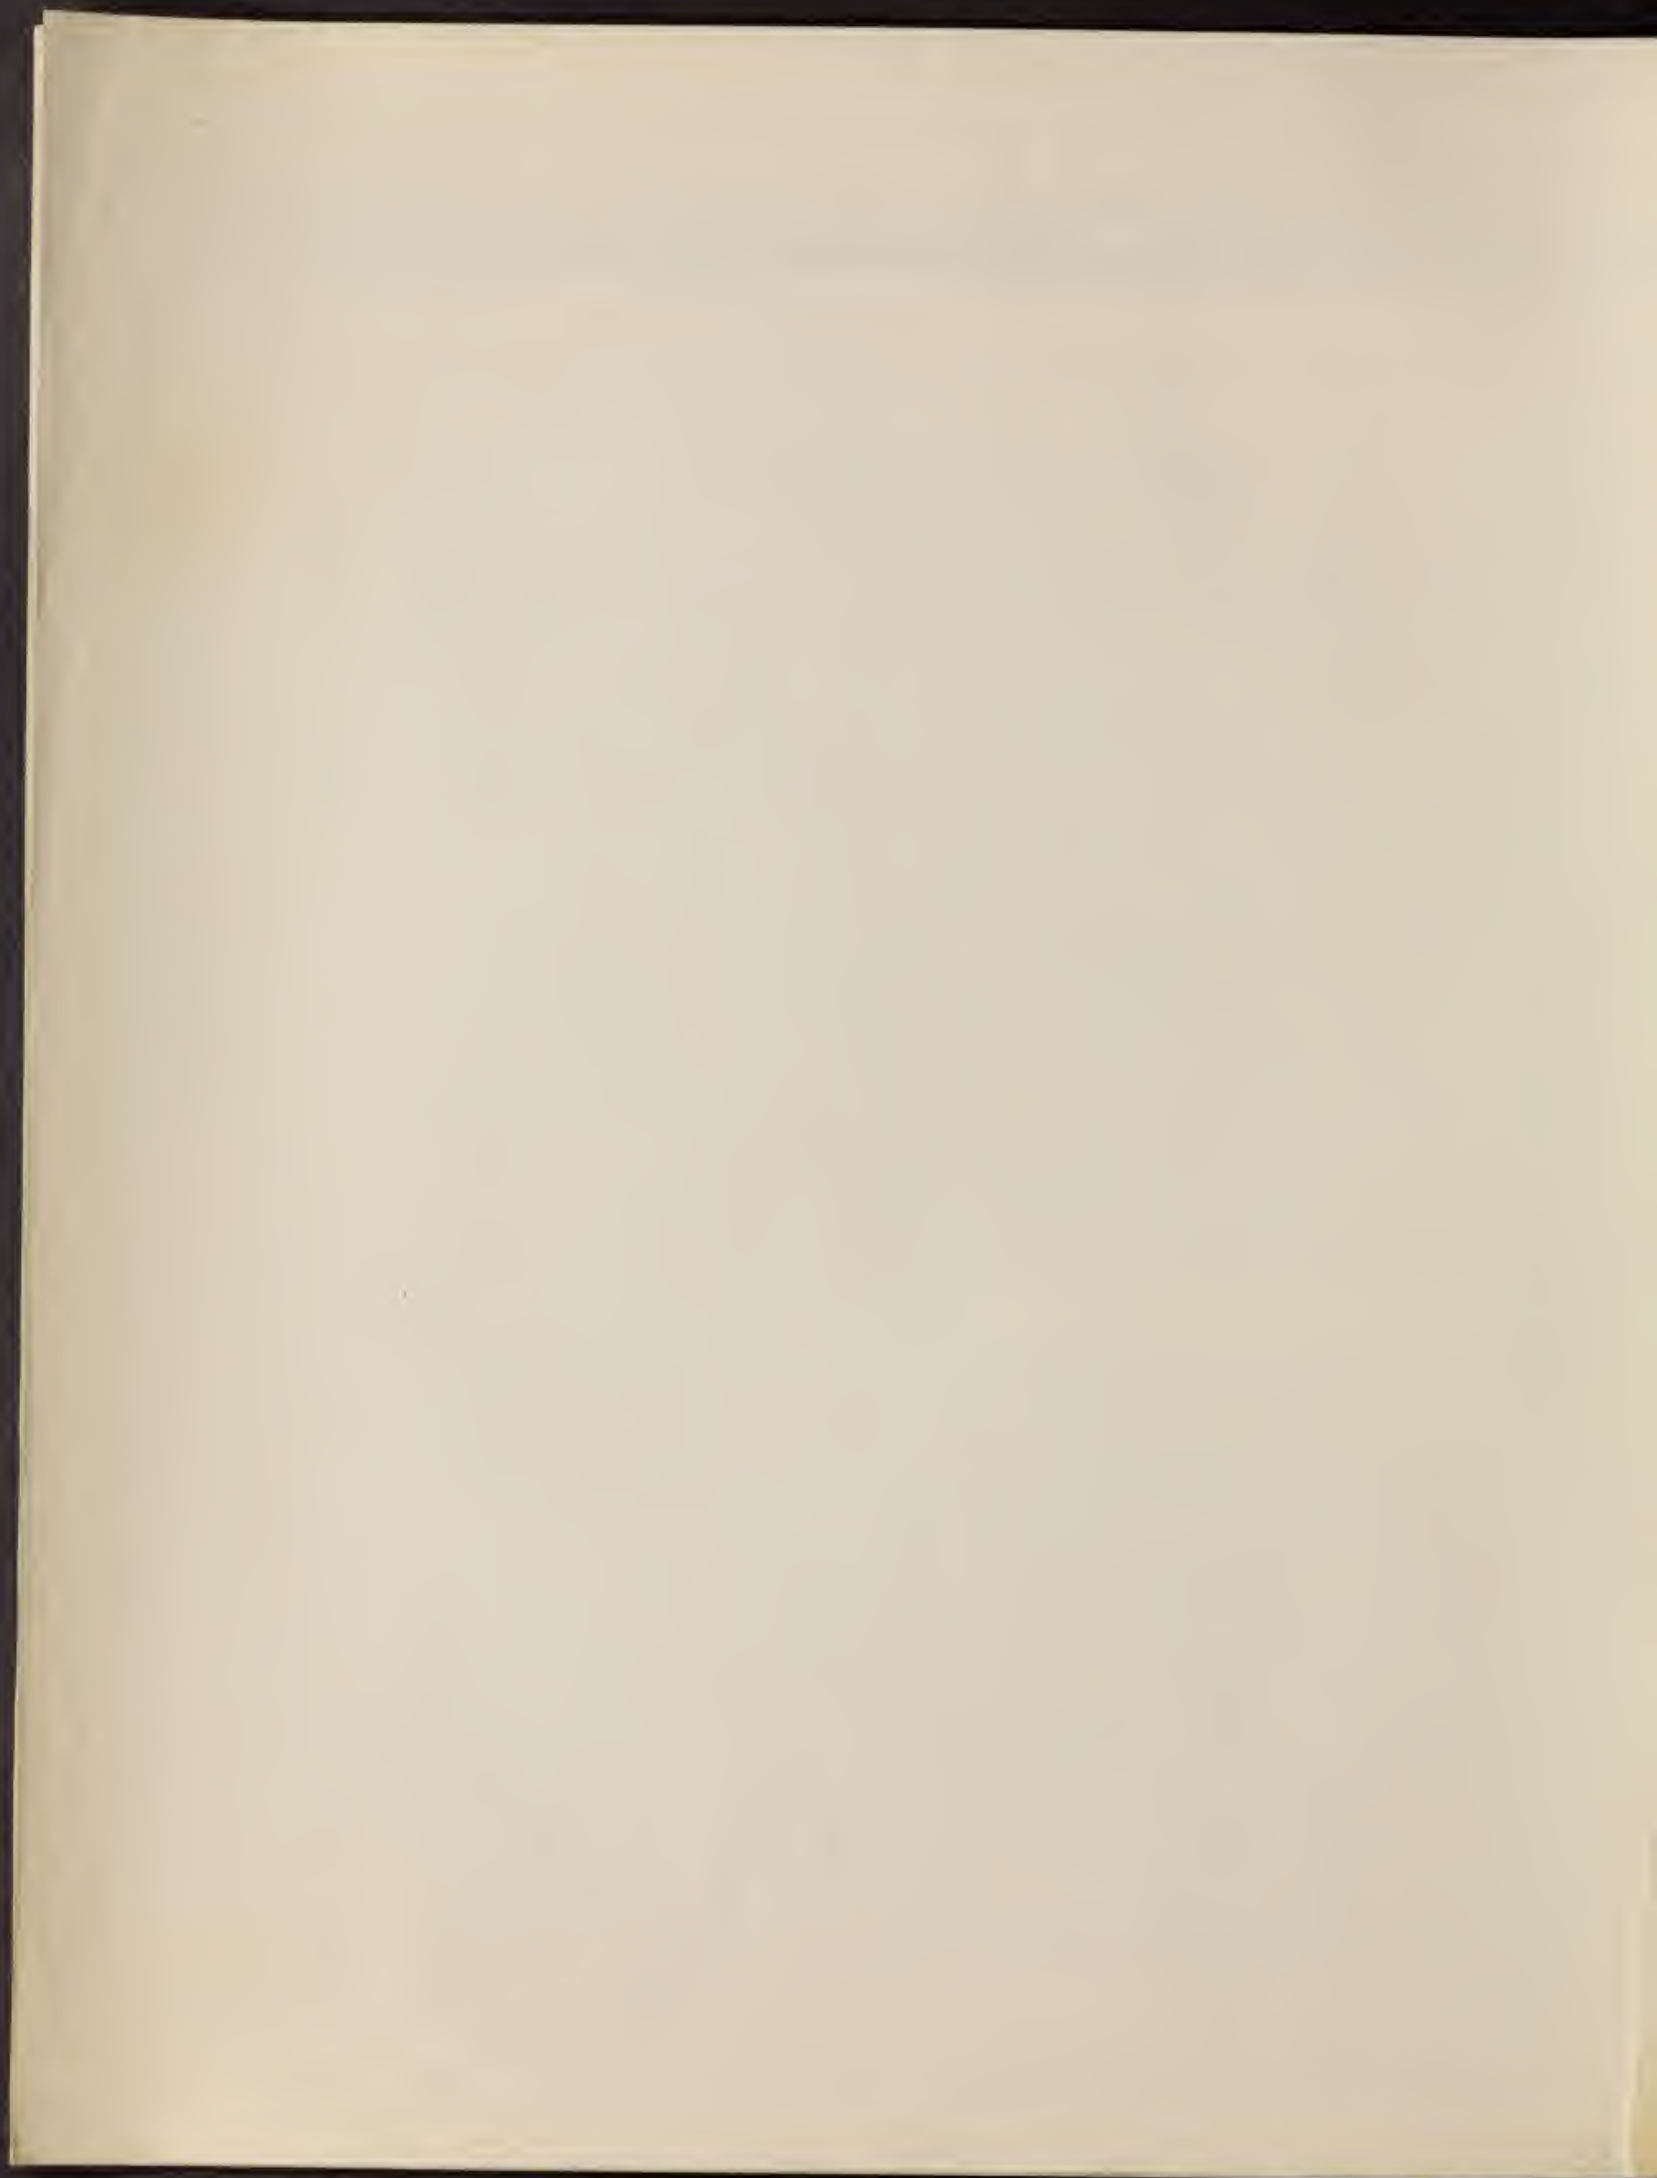

J RICHARD JANSEN (deceased) was born in Shawangunk township, Ulster county, July 9, 1832, and traced his ancestry back to Thomas Jansen, who, in connection with his brother, Johannes, made the first settlement in the Wallkill valley, erecting two stone houses in Shawangunk township, as a means of safety in their frontier position. Their father, Hendrick Jansen, was born in 1679 and died in 1749. He was a son of Jan Jansen, who was probably born in New Amsterdam, N. Y., and died in Esopus township, Ulster county. He married a Miss Roosa in 1659. From the time when Thomas Jansen and his brother located in Shawangunk township the family has been connected with the history of this county. Jacobus Jansen, the son of the former, was born on the old home farm, and became the father of Thomas Jansen, who was the grandfather of our subject.

In his family was John R. Jansen, whose birth occurred on the farm. After arriving at his majority he married Rachel Ter-williger, and located on a Shawangunk township farm. He carried on agricultural pursuits throughout his entire life, and died there March 11, 1845; his wife passed away in the same locality. They were the parents of five children: Mary, who became the wife of Alfred Davis, of Ellenville, and after his death married John Edmunds; J. Richard; William C., deceased; Cornelius, who died in childhood; and De Witt C., for years proprietor of the "Astor House" of Shang Hai, China, but now deceased.

J. R. Jansen, whose name introduces this sketch, was reared on his father's farm. His educational privileges were somewhat limited, for at the age of thirteen years he left the district school and began learning the harness-maker's trade, which he completed in 1852, and then established a shop in Tuthill. On January 26, 1860, he married Jane Ann Johnston, who was born in Gardiner township February 2, 1838. Her grandfather, James Johnston, was born, reared and married in Ireland, whence he brought his family to America, locating on a farm in Ulster county, N. Y., where he and his wife both died. Their children were John, who is married and follows farming in this county; James; William, a tailor, of New York City, who died in Ulster county; Maria, wife of George Vanderlyn, a farmer, of Michigan; Jane, wife of Jacob H. Deyo, a farmer, of Ulster county; and Nancy, deceased.

James Johnston, father of Mrs. Jansen, was born in Ireland April 24, 1799, but was reared in this county, and married Maria Jordan, who was born in Gardiner township in 1807. On a farm in the same township eight children were born of their union: Robert, a commission merchant of Newburg, N. Y.; Alexander, who followed school-teaching, and died in Minneapolis, Minn.; Benjamin B., a merchant of Montgomery, N. Y.; Jane Ann; Catherine, wife of Robert Elliott, a merchant of Philadelphia; Washington, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and William and Sarah M., both deceased. Mrs. Jansen was reared on her father's farm, remaining at home until her marriage, and attended the district schools until fifteen years of age. She became the mother of five chil-

Dear Dr. Burleigh;

Your van Orden, or Norden, family is a fascinating one. I send you what I have; I hope you will check it all carefully because as you know spellings and surnames change in different records. It seems that these people were top-flight Huguenots.

This first record is taken from the COMPENDIUM OF AMERICAN GENEALOGY, Vol 1, Virkus; as you know, Virkus cannot really be trusted since the pedigree are sent in by individual families and not always edited. Particularly in the southern American families I find the English ancestry claims to be ridiculous. However, with this much to go on I am sure that there are Huguenot records to be consulted.

I think that the family vanished early from Albany; and from Kingston. You say that your Scottish settlers were of 'ew Jersey or 'ew York City, so perhaps the line on page one is the line you seek. Adam Rees, prob. brother of Elizabeth? for whom her son Adam was named? went to New Jersey, as you have seen. Willem Andries Rees, who was of Niskayuna in 1671 (with Albert Mykman) was an early settler of Kingston in 1663. Adam 'ees, surely a brother, was in Niskayuna 1681. I know you don't agree with me but I think that this Rees is Wees and van Wie; Holland Year book says that the R in van Reys, Reynne, etc. is an 'error in the original and should be W.' I also wonder whether van Norden may be Bratt? As you will know, Albert Andriesson Bratt was called 'de Boorman' His brother ARENT Andriesson Bratt married Catalyna de Vos, a daughter of Andries Vos and Marya 'du Renssu (illegible) Huguenots. Was she the Catrine Bosch who married, after Arent's death, Walerand du Mond in 1690?

History of Hudson + Bergen Counties, N.J.

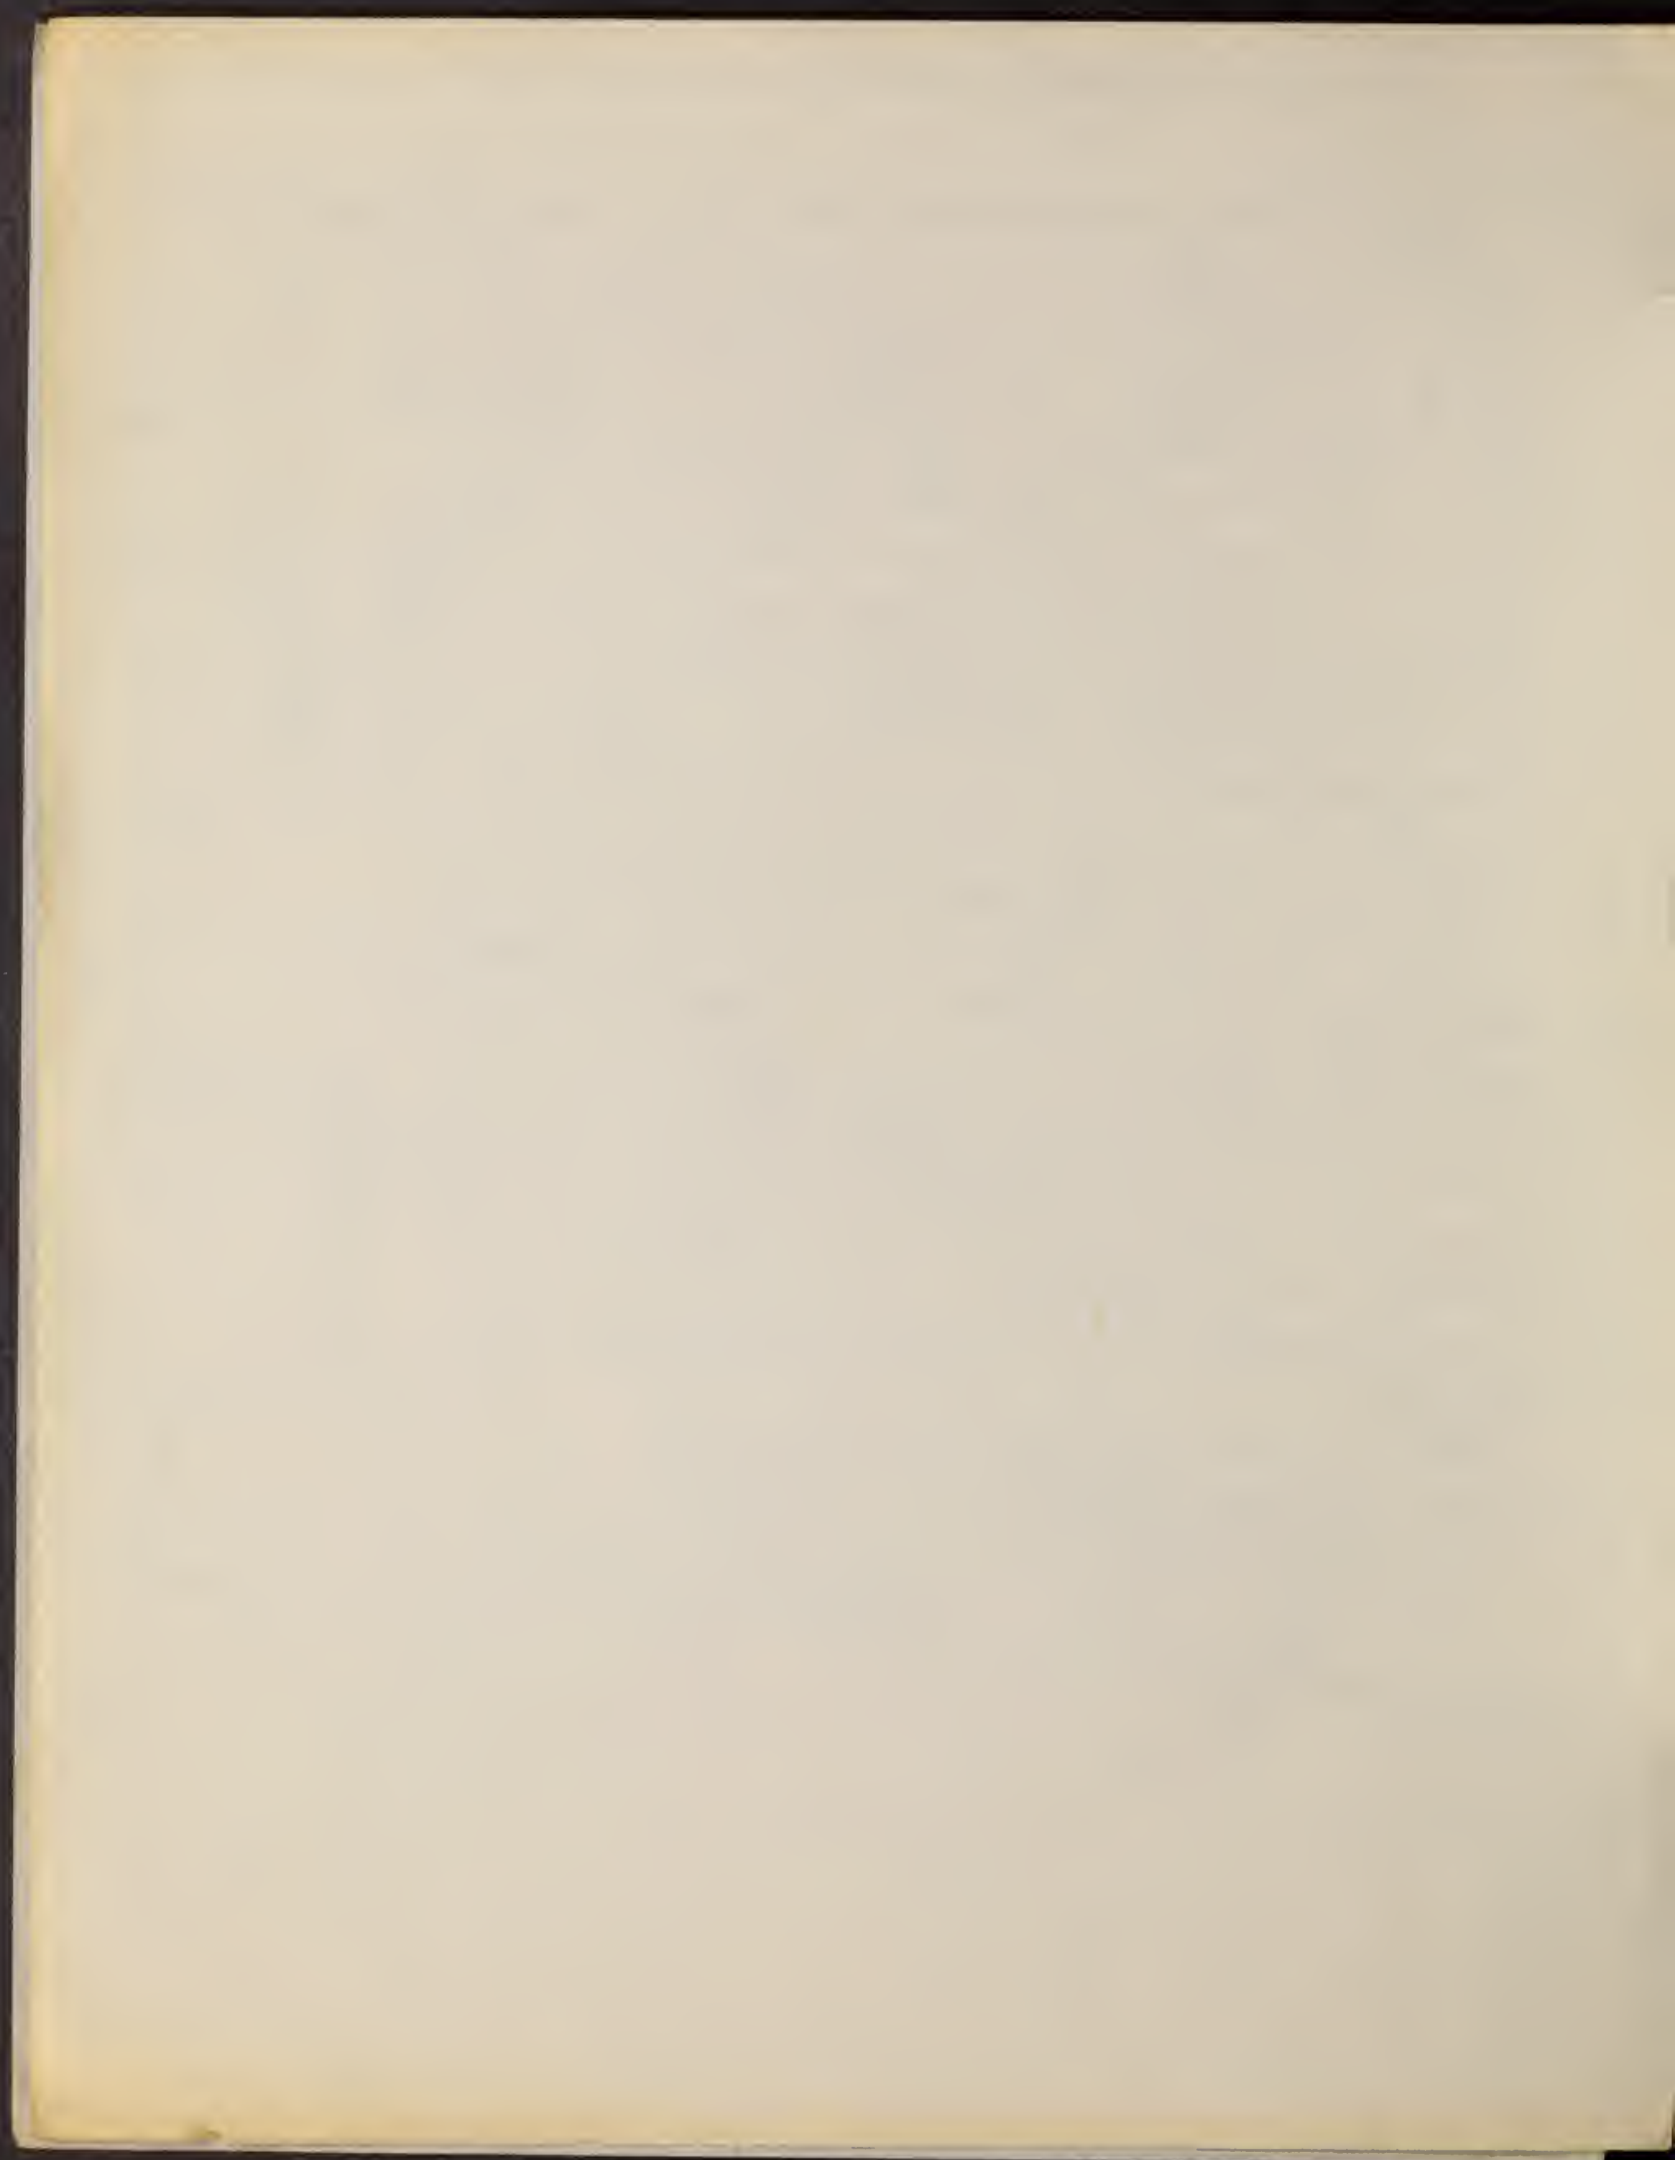

The Van Order (Van Naerden) Family is said to have originated at Naerden, a Town in North Holland, from whence, as early as 1639, one Claes Jansen Ruyter emigrated to America. The surname Ruyter was bestowed on him because he was, as the name signifies, a good horseman. His children dropped the name "Ruyter," and went by the name of Jansen. He and his wife, Pieterie Jans, are said to have gone first to Esopus, but, not liking that locality, located at Brooklyn where, in 1645, Claes bought 42 acres of land adjoining the farm of Peter van Delinde. Claes was an Indian interpreter in 1660. His son, Claes Jansen, married in New York in 1676 Cornelia Williams of Esopus. He was then registered as being from Esopus. By his two wives he had a large family of children.

Claes's son John married and reared a large family, among whom were Andries, Albert and Adam. These came to Hackensack about 1700, where, on August 31 of that year, Andries married Rachel, eldest daughter of David Demarest (2), by whom he had a son John. Rachel Demarest died in 1708, and Andries married 12 August, 1810, Antie de Roux, a grand-daughter of Jacques de Roux, the emigrant.

Andries children were Jacobus, Elizabeth, Jannetie, Peter and Wybrig.

Albert, brother of Andries, married in 1717 Margaret Matheys of Hackensack, by whom he had issue.

Many of the children of Andries and Albert settled on lands now in Washington, Midland and Hohokus Townships, where the name is frequently met today.

FIRST GENERATION

CHILD OF JEAN DES MAREST AND (?) MARGUERITE DE HERVILLE

- 1 DAVID¹ married Marie Sohier July 24, 1643, at the French church, Middleburg, on the Island of Walcheren, Zeeland. She was the daughter of Francois Sohier from Nieppe, a town of Hainault. They lived at Middleburg from the time of their marriage until 1651. They then removed to Mannheim in the Palatinate. In 1663 they migrated to America. Locating on Staten Island, they remained there two years. There David des Marest was appointed at once, 1664, a magistrate, also delegate with Pierre Billiou to conference concerning protection from the Indians; also delegate to the Provincial Assembly of New Netherland. In 1664 he removed to New Harlem where he remained twelve and a half years. There he was chosen overseer, constable, schepen. In 1677 the family removed again, to the French Patent on the Hackensack. Marie Sohier des Marest died, it is thought, just at this time. Some account of the life in each place is given in the narrative and in the appendix of this compilation. David des Marest died in 1693. His will was made August 26, 1789, probated July 30, 1697. An earlier will had been made jointly by him and his wife when they were in New Harlem, February 1, 1672. The witnesses to the probated will were Paull Richard, Giles Gaudineau, Peter Legrand, Peter De Lattoy. He left to his maid Anna Counk, housekeeper no doubt after the death of his wife, one hundred acres of land. His whole estate with this exception he left to his three sons, Jean, David and Samuel, equal heirs. The three sons were to be executors; but the son David had died; so "Jean Durie our cousin" represented the children of David Jr., he later marrying the widow. See narrative and appendix.

- 4 David married Rachel Cresson, daughter of Pierre Cresson April 4, 1675
 She was born at Delft about 1656. The marriage notice March 7, the banns apparently, reads: "April 4, 1675, David DeMareez de jonge j. m.
 Van Mannheim, Rachel Cresson, j. d. Van Delf bijde wonende op. N.
 Haerlem." He was received by the New York church May 30, 1672;
 she was received December 7, 1673. He died before or in August, 1691;
 a legal paper of that date speaks of the heirs of David Des Marest jr.
 Tradition says that he was killed by a falling tree. He left no will.
 After his death his widow joined the Hackensack church from the French church of Kinderkamack which she and her husband had joined from the Bergen church. David having left no will, Jan Durie, cousin, was appointed to look after the interests of the children and he later married the widow. At Jan Durie's death, his will dated June 10, 1698, administration was granted his wife Rachel. He had married before and his surviving children, minors, were all by his first wife. Samuel Demarest was appointed their guardian and Jan Des Marest was a witness. Rachel Cresson married a third time; Roeloff Vander Linde April 25, 1702, at Hackensack; and she survived him. David's name appears often in the Harlem Records. He subscribed toward the salary of the parish clerk and school master, the voorleser; and later he refused to make such subscription. He was in the watch organized against the Indians and he is spoken of as a "former fence master." With his father David Sr. he contracted March 12, 1677, to sell their property in Harlem to Paulus Richards. They reserved the right to occupy their dwellings until May 1, 1678. David Jr. settled his accounts in full with the town April 23, 1677, his father making his settlement three days later, and soon after left for the Hackensack. He was received into the Bergen church, October 7, 1677, with all others of the family save his father who kept his membership in the New York church.

- 7 MARIA who was baptized at Mannheim and came as an infant with the family to America has been thought of as dying in childhood at New Harlem since her father, the record shows, paid for a funeral pall at a certain time, or that she died in the early days of the settlement on the Hackensack, since she is not mentioned in her father's will. It is possible however that her life was not so short and that she is the Mynno Demarest, not otherwise identified, who married Abraham DeVeaux in 1688. His name, Abram DeVouw, appears in the membership roll of the Hackensack church 1694, the only record of him at Hackensack. Later he lived at Tarrytown where he served twenty years as deacon and elder in the Sleepy Hollow church. He was the son of Nicholas De Veaux and Marie See, daughter of Isaac See, Sr., born at Mannheim in 1667. If Maria Demarest was the Mynno Demarest whom he married, she was 26 years of age and he 21 at the time of the marriage. Descendant: Ida Dudley Dale, Randall Manor, Staten Island.

THIRD GENERATION

CHILDREN OF (2) JEAN DEMAREST² AND JACOMINA DE RUINE

- 9 DAVID³ married Antie Slot, daughter of Jan Slot and Altie Jans, about 1695 in the French church at Kinderkamack. She was born probably between 1675 and 1680. They joined the Dutch church of Hackensack from the French church of Kinderkamack April 5, 1696. David died by 1706, for his widow married Jonathan Hart September 7, 1706, at Hackensack, "he of Southold," L. I. The will of (2) Jean Demarest mentions four granddaughters and one grandson, children of his son David. The father of David's wife, Jan Pieterse Slot, came from Holstein, Denmark, about 1684 and settled in Harlem. His son Pieter married Marretie Walling Van Winckell who after his death became the second wife of (2) Jean Des Marest in 1692. Their daughter Annatie married Jean's eldest son David about 1695. David des Marrett appears in the record of the French church, New York, as one of the witnesses to the marriage of Ellie Pelletreau and Esther Gouin, October 19, 1692.

Dear Mrs. Adams:

A few days ago a friend loaned me the Vol. 1, 1966, copy of the Grandfatherly Magazine of New Jersey, and I was pleased to note that you were presenting a genealogy of the Van Orden family of Bergen and Passaic Counties, New Jersey.

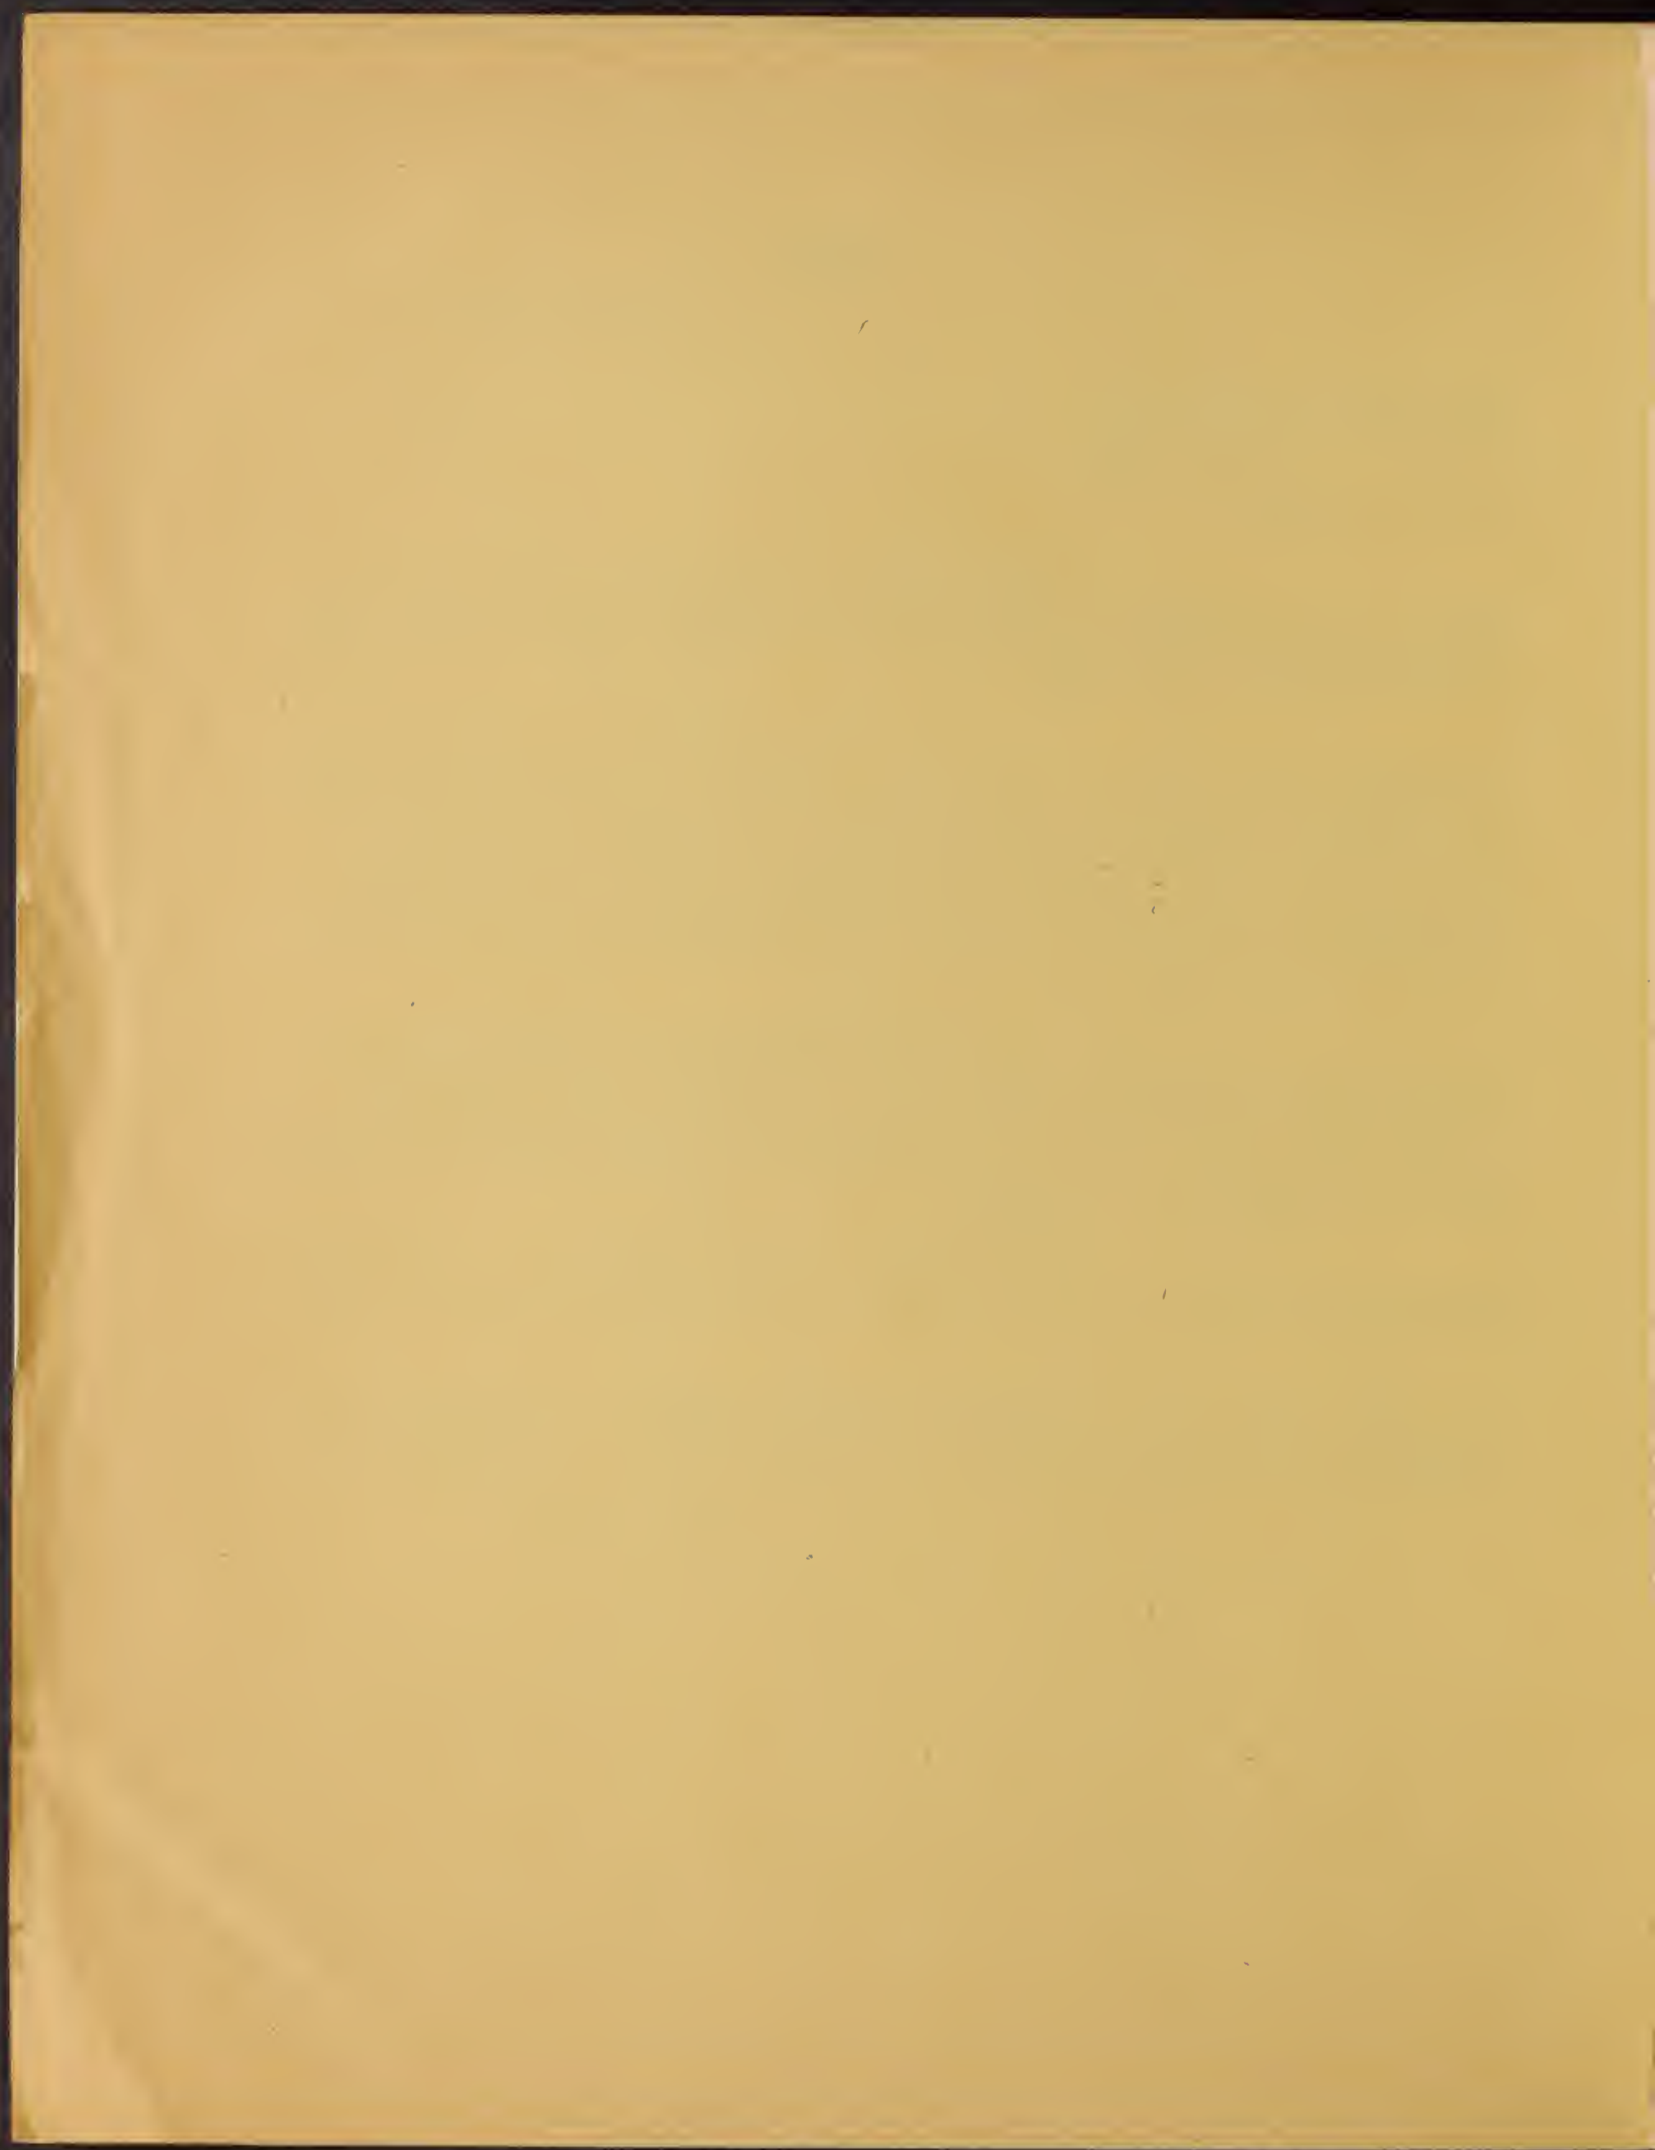

I am interested because I am a descendant of this family--from the village of Lumbert--and I am desirous of obtaining two copies of your book when available. If you will not, I belong to one of the several branches of the family who resided locally in 1770-1771. A few members went to New Brunswick, Canada, in 1771. My grandfather, at least William Goetz and his wife, Margaret Van Orden, arrived in Quebec in 1773, and settled in Lumbert in the summer of 1774. Subsequently, William Van Orden and his children came a year or two later.

I have been searching for the Van Orden for several years, and, to my surprise of course, I bought a copy of a small book on The Van Orden Family, published in 1923 by Theodore Charles Van Orden. It has been a valuable book to me. Originally I was investigating the Putnam, Seton family, and at present almost ready to publish a small history of the early generations of Putnam.

Incidentally, we have, in the past, several other, maybe families, who claim descent from a few Van Orden who took the name of Kabea.

I do not particularly wish to add or borrow in your book. I only wish to know where I come in along the genealogical line. Please have my request to send when your book is ready for distribution.

Love, sincerely,

Dutch Reformed Church, Schraalenburg.

I am so glad you mentioned the name BURNET. I have been puzzling over Burnick, Barnick, Buret, etc.etc. Each new Dominie spelled it differently.

Do you know the origins of the group of Scots who were settled around what is now Newburgh? It was then Passaic Kill, or 'the Highland' or 'the Lange Rak' and seems to be that large area west and south of Poughkeepsie. Those poor preachers must have spent all their lives on the road!

Were the Scotsmen Covenanters? They came at the right time..

Dear Friend Dempsey —

Many thanks for the loan of the pamphlets which I am returning under separate cover. They were interesting, seeing that so little has been preserved of New Jersey records, thanks to British raids.

What do you know of the Ruttons? This family intrigues me, as I have recently found evidence of my descent from them. It looks like this:

That takes up too much space. However, it is, at present, my chief frustration. And I am looking for help.

My best to the Doctor and the offspring and my thanks to you

Sincerely

Dear Cousin

Thanks for the obit. of Mrs. McQuade.
I will file it with her application

Thanks also for the note re The Records of Reformed Dutch Churches of Hackensack and Schraalenburgh. I am very much interested, and, if it contains any data on the following, I should like to rent it from you so I can scan it.

1. Matthew Van Norden (Orden, Order) who had

Possible — { children
a. Margaret, marr. about 1770 William Howe U.C.
b. Patty.
c. Elizabeth, marr. about 1760 John Burnett
d. Anthony.
e. Isaiah
? f. Matthew

2. George Calloway, who came to Kingston in 1784 with wife & ^{family} small children

These, of course, are my own ancestors. I am also interested in all loyalists.

Samuel Sherwood, of Eastern District, was nephew of Samuel of Belleville & Midland District; and are not to be confused

If the above is of any use to you then I have been of some small service. I have checked all the other names with possible variations of spelling but can not help you. This is the only reference to a Mathew in either book and while there are margrets & Elizabeths, none of them married as per your list. They may have moved across the river into N.Y. State or to another parish in East Jerisy.

Dear Doctor

Thanks for your reply to my letter re Paul Huger. First chance I have while in Kingston I will visit Queen's Library.

No mills of Lennox Addington or Frontenac County until 1854. All mills were sent to Osgoode Hall previous to that date.

Looked in at the Registry Office, no data there either re James Demarest.

I copied from the Demarest Book all the data on the Van Orden there in.

Again thanking you, I am

1786. N. B. Bunn.

A nat. of America. Settled in Bergen Co. on his own Property when trouble broke out, very early entered into an Association with Col. Burdick to oppose measures of Congress, in Sep. 1776, when the Brit. came into Jersey, joined Genl. Vaughan at New-Bridget & gave all the Assistance to the Brit. while there, sent out men & wagons to supply the Army with Provisions.

Col. Burdick was then raising a Regiment, assisted him as well as he could, found victuals for 20 persons at his own house intended for Col. Burdick.

When the Brit. went away in Dec. 1776, was taken Prisoner on Acc. of having given them assistance, was kept in Confinement till 18 Jan'y. 1777. & then released & went home.

In July, 1777 was taken up & carried to Morris Town & there kept till Jan'y, 1778. Then went to New York to get an exchange which he expected, returned home but on Lord Cornwallis's coming into N. Jersey in the fall, 1778, joined him, has been with the Brit. ever since.

Howard L. Van Norden

Retired. He was born in Brooklyn N.Y. on Oct 29 1873 married Mary, Augusta Norton of Katonah N.Y. on Oct 3 1903, who died June 20 1932. They have a daughter Margaret L. Van Norden, born on July 8 1904.

The surname of the Van Norden family is derived from the town of Naarden, which in the seventeenth century was included in East Frisia, Holland, but is now within the territory of Germany. In the first emigration of Hollanders to New Netherland in 1623, came Pieter Casparzen Van Naarden (from Naarden), who was probably a leader for the Dutch West India Company, and engaged in buying furs from the Indians. In 1626 his home was at "The Fens" (Brooklyn), where his kinsman, Claes (Nicholas) Van Naarden, owned land. The name of Pieter Van Naarden appears in the New Amsterdam records in the years 1647-1662. A record of 1665 mentions his widow, showing that he died before that year. The name of his first wife is not known. His second wife was Anechtje Jans, daughter of Jan Van Naarden, showing that she was related to him, perhaps of the family of Claes Van Naarden, above mentioned. Their marriage took place about 1651. One of their sons, Caspar, moved to Harlem, & later to Bergen, New Jersey, adopting the name of Mabie. After the year 1700 the name appears as Van Ouden or Van Norden. The latter form follows more closely the original derivation.

Howard L. Van Norden is a son of Dr. Thomas L. Van Norden, a physician, & Mary Paterson. He received his education in the High School of his native city & entered the field of Ship Repairs. He retired on Dec. 31, 1926.

Demarest.

P. 55-

The New Jersey Historical Series

The Huguenot, David Demarest, was born near Amiens, in 1620. He and his family fled first to nearby Middelburg, in Zeeland; then to Mannheim, in the Palatinate, where he achieved considerable prominence; then to America. He arrived in New Netherland on April 16, 1663, almost at the end of the Dutch rule, on the Bonte Koe, which had recently been bringing immigrants by the hundreds. He went first to Staten Island, then to Harlem.

Men like Demarest were sturdy, self-reliant, and deeply religious, but it would be a grave mistake to picture them either as ascetics or patricians. Like other seventeenth-century Europeans, they were earthy, aggressive men, who knew their rights and were quick to see any threat to them, real or imagined. They had not survived the terror of persecution by turning the other cheek, and they had no intention of turning their cheeks in the New World. The authorities probably soon wished that some of them had stayed at home. Demarest, for instance, was involved in a series of controversies with his neighbors in Harlem, in one of which he refused to pay tithes for the Dutch voorleser, because he was French and not Dutch, and carried on a long bitter litigation about it; having won that battle, he proceeded to move across the Hudson and join the Dutch Reformed Church. He was convinced that anyone who crossed him in any way was seeking his ruin, and he was prepared to defend his rights to the end against any interference. The men who opened the wilderness in New Jersey were men like Demarest; a century was to pass before their descendants took on the dignity of country gentlemen.

Will of Barent Dircksen van Norden and his wife

In the name of God, Amen. On the fifteenth day of March in the hear after the birth of His only begotten Son, our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, sixteen hundred and forty-two, before me, Cornelis van Tienhoven, appointed secretary in New Netherland for the General Chartered West India Company, residing in Fort Amsteram, personally appeared Barent Dircksen from Norden and Lysbet Dirckx, his lawful wife, residing here on the Island of Manhatans in New Netherland, both in bodily health, able to go about and in full possession and exercise of their faculties, understanding and memory as seemed evident to us, who declared that they, the testators, considering the certainty of death and the uncertainty of the hour thereof, and wishing to anticipate all such uncertainty and unexpectedness by testamentary disposition, of their own free will, full knowledge and deliberate intention, without inducement, persuasion or misleading on the part of any one, have made and concluded, as they do hereby make and conclude, their testament and disposition of last will in manner and form hereinafter written, to wit: First, after express revocation and annulment of all testaments and other dispositions whatsoever which either of them before the date hereof may have anywise made, executed or given, they, the testators, commending their souls always and whenever they shall have left their bodies to the infinite mercy of Almighty God and their dead bodies to a Christian burial in the hope of a blessed and glorious resurrection on the last day and he, Barent Dircksen from Norden, above named, proceeding herewith to the disposition of his property, means and effects in New Netherland and such other goods as he has received or may yet receive by inheritance from his deceased relations, besides all other profits and gains, he, the testator, Barent Dirksen aforesaid, bequeaths devises and gives, as he hereby does bequeath, devise and give, all of them to Lysbet Dircks, his, the testator's, wife here present, in case he, the testator, should first die and depart out of this sorrowful world, and that as a recompense for her, Lysbet Dirck's, faithful love and care which she has bestowed on him, the testator. And whereas the institution of heirs is the foundation of all wills, without which no will can exist, he, the testator, declares and nominates Femmetje Alberts, his niece, at present the wife of Hendrick Westercamp, to receive after his, the testator's, death, out of the estate left behind, the sum of two hundred Carolus guilders, after the payment of which neither she nor any other of his, the testator's, blood relations shall have any further claims, all other property which he, the testator, shall leave behind being bequeathed to the aforesaid Lysbet Dircks.

In like manner Lysbet Dircks, wife of Barent Dircksen from Norden, coming to the disposition of her property, movable and immovable, legacies and bequests, leaves to Barent Dircksen, her present husband, in case she die before her husband, the just half of the estate belonging to her, that is to say, after her death Barent shall take his half out of the entire estate and property left by her and the remaining half he, Barent Dircksen, shall fairly divide with the children of Lysbet Dircks by her first husband or her heirs; all of which she, Lysbet Dircks, bequeaths and makes over to him, Barent Dircksen, in recompense and gratitude for the fidelity and love he bears to her; they, the testators, wishing and desiring that the survivor of both of them, in the manner hereinbefore set forth, shall take, possess, use, dispose of and control as they please and judge best the property which they shall leave behind, without any contradiction

Dear Sirs:

I am requesting your advice relative to my search for information regarding a Dutch ancestor by the name of Jan. I shall explain the situation and request, please, that you advise as what steps I should take to obtain further information.

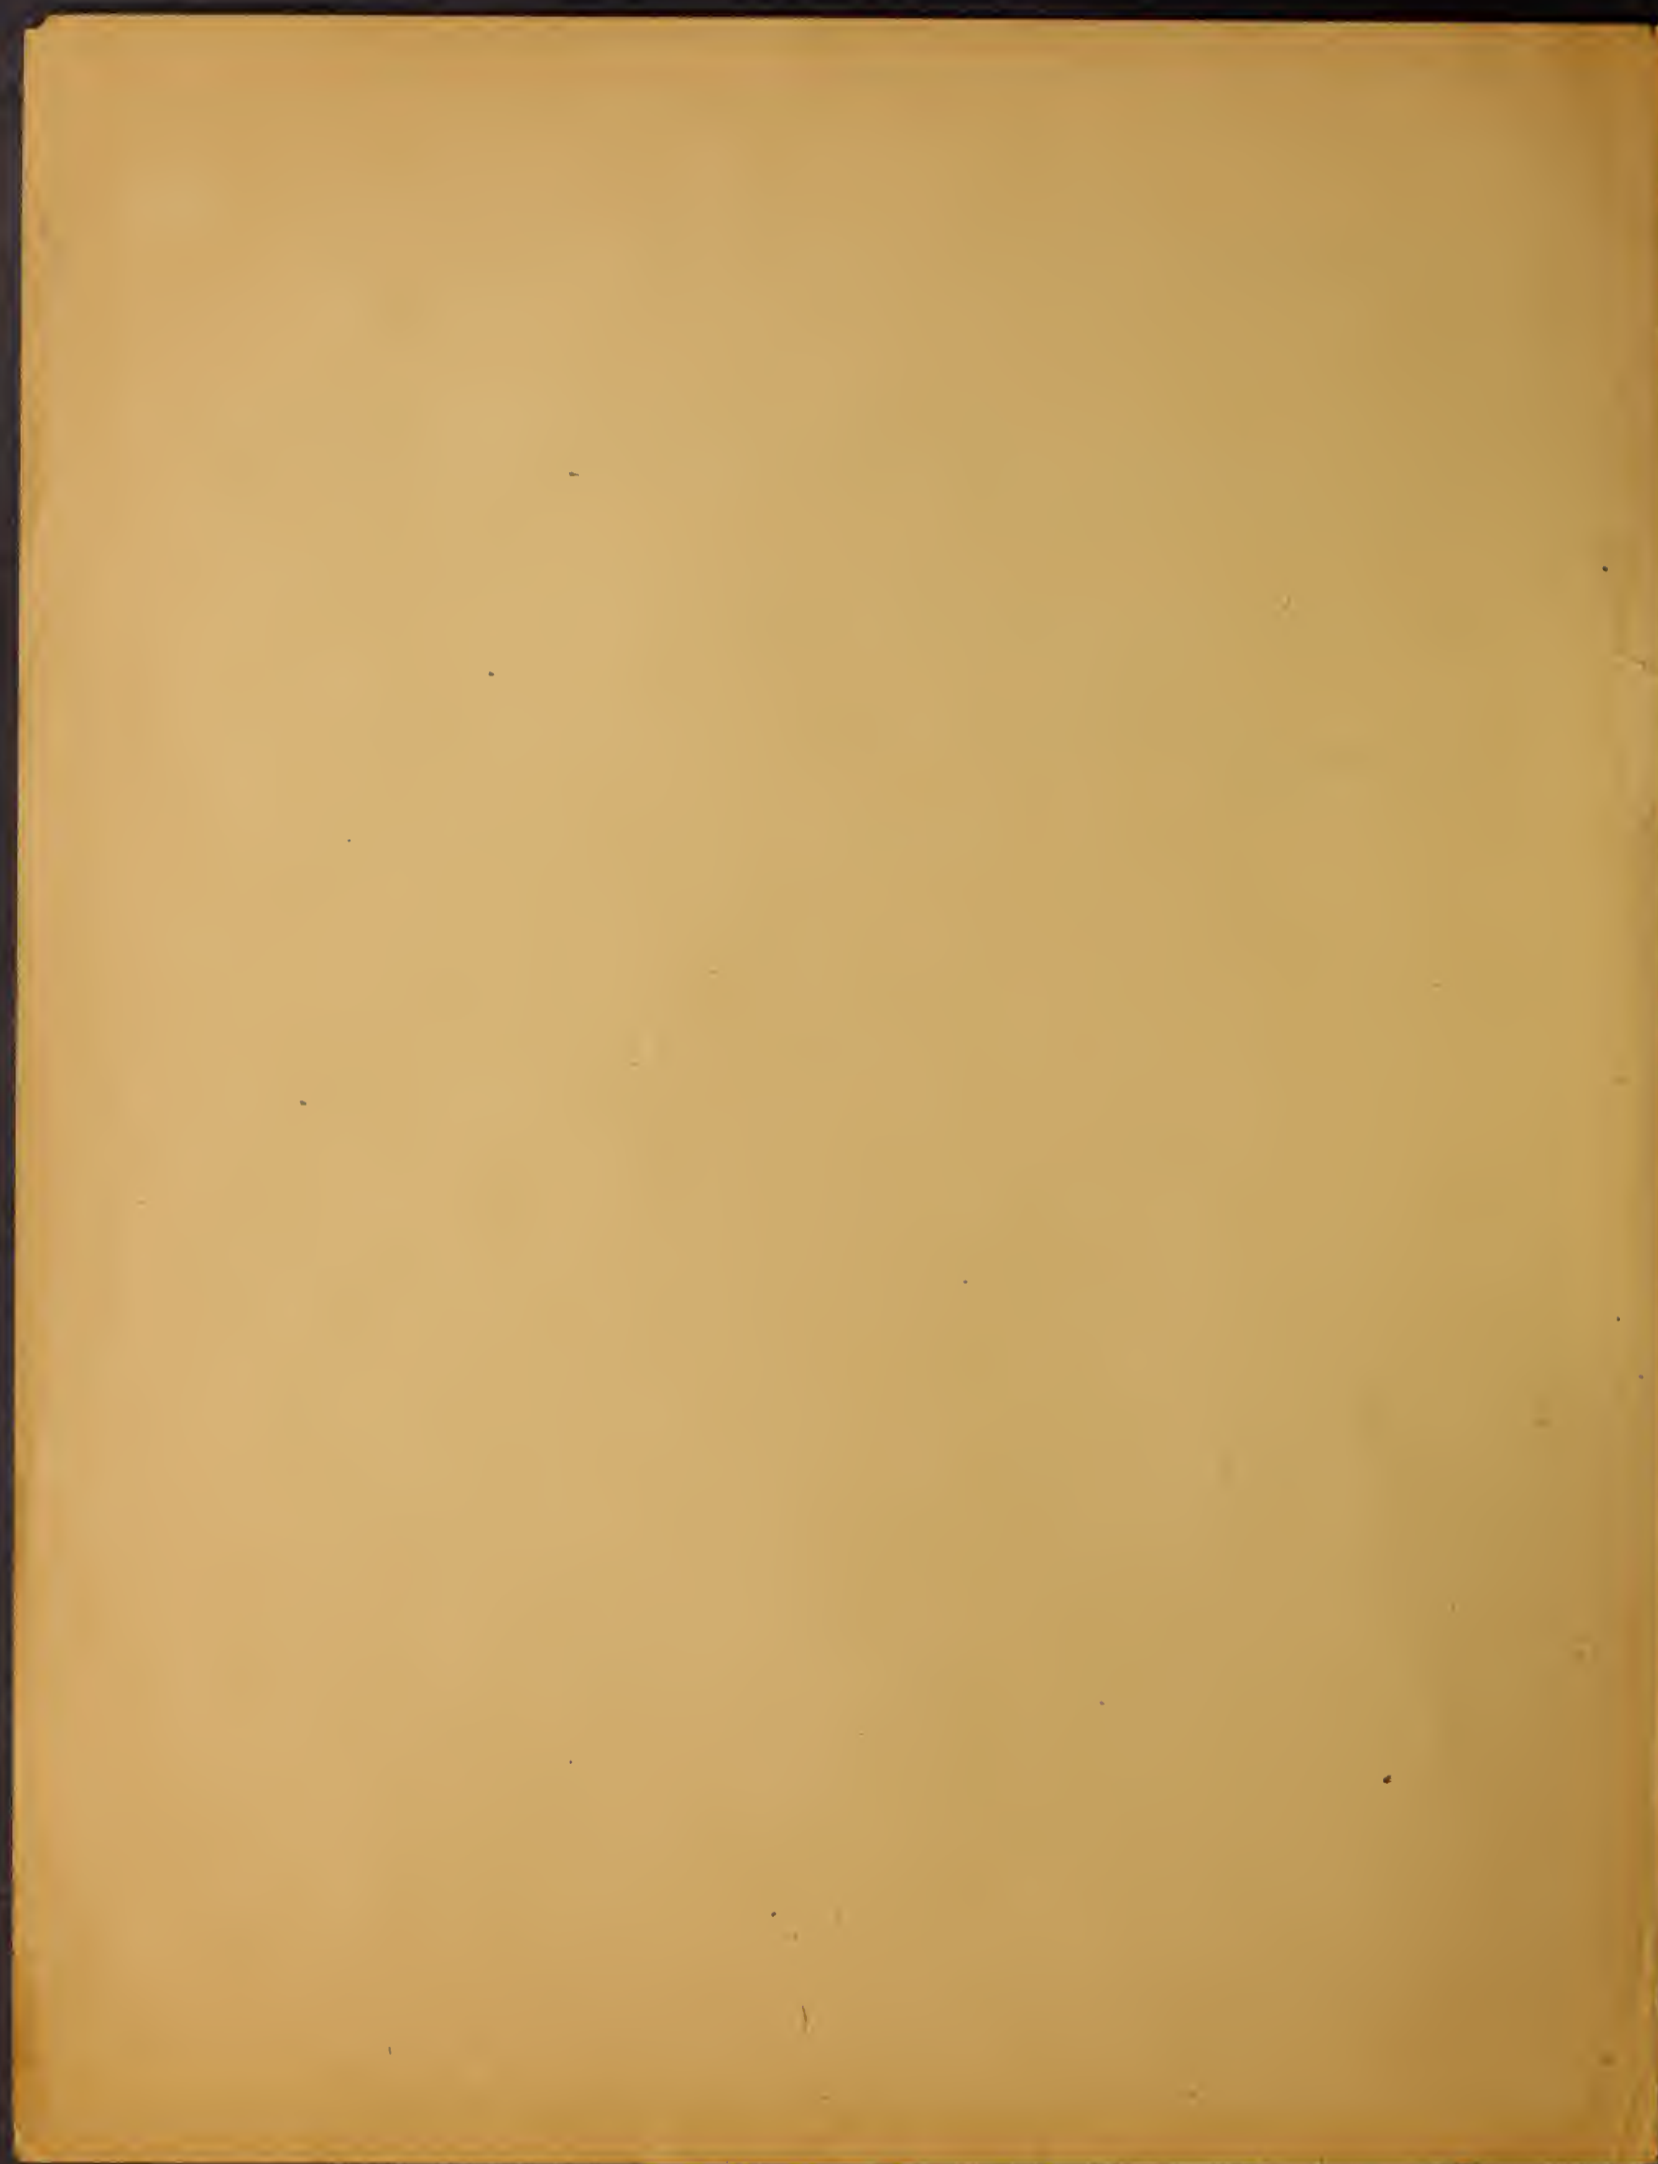

My father, Jan. 21st, 1800, was in the vicinity of the lower Hudson River about 1720-30, had children

1. Margaret, married William Van der Burgh about 1800.
2. Isaac.
3. Elizabeth.

All these children, and possibly the father, came to Kingston, Ontario, in the period 1784-1795.

Very thanks for your interest in my problem.

Yours sincerely,

Matthews
